

Less Than Jake, In-Dependence Day

Rescue me from boring times it's a story i know line by line different deep on the inside, isn't different if you have to try i'm borderline day after day waiting to get knocked off my feet again time passes by like a slow parade waiting to get knocked off my feet again knocked to my knees again. the measurements of my success, are always measured in not making sense my motivation's taking bets it's apologies or arguments with a head filled full of cans and can'ts. i try and try and try to remember why i think it's now or it's never. i'm borderline day after day waiting to get knocked off my feet again time passes by like a slow parade waiting to get knocked off my feet again knocked on my knees again.
