

Less Than Jake, Theme Song From H Street

You know my best friend, just left yesterday and I know I know your girlfriend, couldn't explain, why she moved away things are so the same, that all I can really bring myself to say is that I know and yeah just outside, the conversation's getting old and I know they're right, betting smokes that our end is just as close.
and remember when they said just how long can your ideals keep you warm and we just laughed that kinda nervous laugh and we just sang along to that song on the radio you were right about, just how we'd figure out things change but beliefs stay the same and you were right about just how we'd figure out a change of ideas I've known
