

Libertines, Don't look back

Don't look back into the sun Now you know that your time has come And they said that it'd never come