

Life Long Tragedy, Sincere

Well make this more than words.

Well make this more than songs,

Well make this more.

Ive come to terms with who I am and this strength comes from within.

The right and the wrong, Ive always known.

I take pride in my decisions.

Where theres a will theres a way,
and theres the strength to fight another day.

Where theres the heart to carry on, well make this more than words, well make this more than songs

Where theres a will. There is a way.

Weve got the heart. Were here to stay.

Sincerity seems to be fading so take a look inside,
and tell me what you find.

Everything seems to be changing,
but I refuse to roll over and die. This is my life.
