

Lifehouse, Empty Space

Too late to hide
And too tired to care
Take what you've left
And forget the rest
Take what you see
Of what's left of me
You know where I've been
And I don't want to go there again

(Chorus)
You're beautiful
You're confusing
You're illogical
You're amazing
And I've seen the world
It's overrated
Until you're everything
I have nothing
But empty space

I've been down
This road before
All that I've found
Points me right back to you
And I've watch you move
From down below
Where do I go from here
I guess I'll find out as I go

(Chorus)
Well, you're beautiful
You're confusing
You're illogical
You're amazing
And I've seen the world
It's overrated
Until you're everything
I have nothing
Until you're everything
I have nothing
But an empty space
