

Lifehouse, Winds Of Change

In the still of the night it shines so clear
And the comfort of finding it here
And as I walk the night gets colder
And I know that I don't know
And it seems as I get older
My life goes over, In the winds of change

I guess nothing turned out like I planned
Everything's sure to fall out of hand
And it takes a lot to find it
And it takes a lot I know
To believe that there is meaning
Inside this moment, In the winds of change

As it turns you upside down
As confusing as it seems
Keep your head high And your feet on the ground
And turn and chase your dreams, In the winds of change
