

Lightspeed Champion, No Surprise (For Wendela)

Keep the lights on
Outside my window comfort's trying to sneak in Knee deep in corn
Dreaming of falling asleep next to you
You

Sunshine and holes
In my plan to settle down and marry
We're all still young
But don't you want somebody to hold
Hold

Headaches and sweat (feels like I'm falling out my skin)
We do it to ourselves I promise not again
And I hear it summon
I swing and miss (I promise not again)

In your head
Did you work out the route to conquer all of your fears
Then what's left
When the water is dry and your hands wont grip anymore

Headaches and sweat (feels like I'm falling out my skin)
We do it to ourselves I promise not again
And I hear it summon
I swing and miss

In your head
Did you work out the route to conquer all of your fears
Then what's left
When the water is dry and your hands wont grip any
More I hear them, the more I hate

Strike down!
All the fences guarding and the one thing you had left.

More I hear them, the more I hate
