

Lil Eddie, City of my heart

Ooh, oh oh oh oh oh oh

Way over here from across the street.

Wanna jump out the window, make you notice me.

But when you give me the eye, I become a nervous guy (Yeah)

Wish I could take you to a place where my palms stay dry.

When we're around each other, we'd never get shy.

I know it sounds make believe but it's not, let me get by you.

Can you imagine living in a place where the wings in the cars go up, up, up.

And if you're ever stuck in traffic, fly past, sit in the rush, rush.

Sit through the red light. (Ooh)

I can see you sitting on the palm side sea

Queen of the lake, or destiny.

It takes place inside of me, in the city of my heart.

When I touch the moon, we could run on it bare feet.

Lay back on it like we're chillin' on the beach.

And we could bring back the stars, in the city of my heart.

Ooh, oh oh oh

(In the city of my heart, my heart. In the city of my heart, in the city of my heart, in the city of my heart)

(In the city of my heart)

You can see it better if you close your eyes.

Hold my hand, let me take you on a carpet ride.

Don't be scared when we rise above new heights. (Yeah)

And I promise girl, when it turns midnight.

The dress won't go away like fairytale life.

And if you leave your glass slipper behind I would find you.

Can you imagine living in a place where the wings in the cars go up, up, up.

And if you're ever stuck in traffic, fly past, sit in the rush, rush.

Sit through the red light. (Ooh)

I can see you sitting on the palm side sea

Queen of the lake, or destiny.

It takes place inside of me, in the city of my heart.

When I touch the moon, we could run on it bare feet.

Lay back on it like we're chillin' on the beach.

And we could bring back the stars, in the city of my heart.

Ooh, oh oh oh oh oh oh

(In the city of my heart, my heart. In the city of my heart, in the city of my heart, in the city of my heart)

Let's run on the clouds, we won't fall through 'em.

Baby don't look down, I'll be your parachute.

I'll guide you now, catch you if you fall.

Let me reassure, you can count on me.

Let's start another rainbow, baby, when we land in a pot of gold.

Then we'll be better than we ever been before.

Give you a tour of the city of my heart (Ooh woah, oh no, no no)

I can see you sitting on the palm side sea

Queen of the lake, or destiny.

It takes place inside of me, in the city of my heart.

When I touch the moon, we could run on it bare feet.

Lay back on it like we're chillin' on the beach.

And we could bring back the stars, in the city of my heart.

Ooh, oh oh oh oh oh oh

(In the city of my heart, my heart. In the city of my heart, in the city of my heart, in the city of my heart)

In the city of my heart. (My heart, ay-oh no, in the city of my..)
