

Lillian Axe, Laughing In Your Face

Too late - for crawling on your knees

Too late - too late to beg me please

Forget the things you said to me

No way - to ever change my mind

No way - no way to find the time

To change the feelings we once shared

Now I'm laughing in your face

I'm laughing, I'm laughing in your face

Too bad - I found my pot of gold

Too bad - too bad you're getting much too old

To play your silly games with me

Look now - at who believes in who

See how - the tables turned on you

Let's see who's smiling now

Now I'm laughing in your face

I'm laughing, I'm laughing in your face

And now I'm on the rebound

And I've found my own space

You're feeling rotten and forgotten

While I'm laughing in your face

And now I'm on the rebound

And I've found my own space

You're feeling rotten and forgotten

While I'm laughing in your face

In your face

I'm laughing, I'm laughing in your face

I'm laughing, I'm laughing

I'm laughing, I'm laughing in your face

Laughing in your face
