

Lillian Axe, Living In The Grey

Now when your blue skies turn to grey
And your eyes still turn away
It's the time to let it go

Out of the dark will shine a light
Everything's in black and white
'Til you let your spirit grow

Stars would shine above you
So everybody loved you
So why'd you go and throw it all away?

The times they are a-changing
My life is rearranging
I'm living in the grey yeah

Breathing with a reason
The everlasting season
I'm living in the grey yeah, yeah

So many years until today
Lost but now you've found the way
An open mind can open eyes
So now you're open to the pain
Sitting naked in the rain
Well, I will dry the tears you cry

Angels must have sent you
Cuz everybody meant to give you time
But then you slipped away

The times they are a-changing
My life is rearranging
I'm living in the grey yeah

Breathing with a reason
The everlasting season
I'm living in the grey yeah, yeah, yeah

Solo

Stars would shine above you
So everybody loved you
So why'd you go and throw it all away?

The times they are a-changing
My life is rearranging
I'm living in the grey yeah

Breathing with a reason
The everlasting season
I'm living in the grey yeah, yeah

The times they are a-changing
My life is rearranging
I'm living in the grey yeah

Breathing with a reason
The everlasting season
I'm living in the grey yeah, yeah, yeah