

Lillian Axe, The Needle And Your Pain

Feel like I'm losing again

Slipping away is the faith I used cling to,

Life seems too strange to be real,

Watching you take it all in stride,

Chorus:

Just for you,

I'd take the needle and your pain,

Away from you,

One for you.

Time has no mind for regret

Watching you bite on the bullet you were born with,

How do you sit there at ease?

While something inside steals your peace?

Chorus:

Just for you,

I'd take the needle and your pain,

Away from you,

I'd give you shelter from the rain,

Just for you,

One for you

No one can convince me that there's method to this madness

As I watch you fade, the hours tick away,

With the courage of a lion

And a steadfast heart of gold,

You have me strength while the flames of my hope burned so cold.

Feeling the heat once again,

Handed us hope as you rose up from the ashes,

Gone is the pain so be free

Now, in your name, we can see.

Chorus
