

Limp Bizkit, When It Rains

I've never waited so long
I'm not expecting a thing
Something tells me you'll come back to me
I spend my winters alone
It gets so cold when you're gone
Something tells me you'll come back to me

But sometimes when it rains
There's no time to do it again
The real me wants to savor it all
In my memory yeah!

I know I made you afraid
I've been wounded too long
Something tells me you'll come back to me
And I got nothing to show
I'm sitting here all alone
Something tells me you'll come back to me

But sometimes when it rains
There's no time to do it again
The real me wants to savor it all
In my memory yeah!

Just know that I'll always respect you
And I'm missing them lost summer days
But maybe it's better if I left you
A memory far far away

It's everything that I breath it's everything that I need
Something tells me you'll come back to me
It's everywhere that I go it's everyone that I know
Something tells me you'll come back to me

But sometimes when it rains
There's no time to do it again
The real me wants to savor it all
In my memory
But sometimes when it rains
There's no time to do it again
The real me wants to savor it all

In my memory yeah! x5
