

Linda McLean, What I'm After

Cruel tonight, head down I'm restless in the cold, can't wait to make it home and look away, I don't want to know whose bundled in the snow. How does it come down to this?
I want a life I can live like it matters, A love I can swear won't end the strength to avoid disaster, and all the time I am after Banged my head so many times, missed those signs that say go the other way
I been as wrong as I can be Then there's been those days I come so close to what I know I can almost see it all comes down to
I want a life I can live like it matters, and a love I can swear will never end, the strength to avoid a
Always looking to all the things I didn't do, only seeing my missed chances
I'm going to walk on through, be here now is all I want to do Yah it may be cold but I can choose Give me a life I can live like it matters
And a love I will swear will never end the strength to avoid another disaster
And all the time I am after, give me time, that's what I'm after....
