

Linda Perry, New Dawn

Jesus, I will follow
For each day is forgiving and never alone
As we walk through miles of disbelief
It will be his hand the guides you
Leading you home
He said
You carry on
A new day will come
You carry on
A new day will dawn
I am woman
A mountain I will climb
I've been beat down and I've been broken
But each day I give it another try
Each road we travel
Will show a different life
Sometimes living ain't easy
But Jesus will help you get it right
Will carry on
A new day will come
Will carry on
A new day will dawn
