

Lindsey Buckingham, I Want You

Written by Lindsey Buckingham.

I want you
I have for so long
I want you
Was I right, was I wrong
I want you
Through the pleasure and the pain
I want you
Again and again
I want you
I have for so long
I want you
Was I right, was I wrong
I want you
I guess I had to prove
I want you
I was someone hard to lose
I the spartan splasher,
Defensive man of steel
If the right one don get ya,
Well the left one will
I sleep all alone
It all I can do
I want you
I want you right now
I want you
I want you right now
I a bundle of joy
A pocketful of tears
Got enough of both
To last all the years
I live all alone
It all I can do
I want you
I want you right now
I want you
I want you right now
