

Lindsey Stirling, Survive (feat. Walk Off The Earth)

Three years gone
Two different stories in the life you lived
One by one
There's pieces falling into place in my head

How all the games you used to play
Using my heart like it's yours for entertainment
You aren't the one, so now we're done
Baby you showed me what I'm really made of

Now baby I'm alright without your love
I'm more than satisfied without your touch
You thought my love would die after what you've done
But I will survive, I will survive

Now that you're free
Enjoy the reason that you never called me
You'd be sorry
When you're alone I know you miss my body

You aren't the one, so now we're done
Baby you showed me what I'm really made of

Now baby I'm alright without your love
I'm more than satisfied without your touch
You thought my love would die after what you've done
But I will survive, I will survive

Yeah baby I'm alright without your love
Don't go and hit my line, I won't pick up
You thought my love would die, but you watch me run
'Cause I will survive, I will survive, hey hey

I will survive without your love, please, darling
I will survive without your love, without your love
I will survive without your love, please, darling
I will survive, will survive, will survive

Now baby I'm alright without your love
I'm more than satisfied without your touch
You thought my love would die after what you've done
But I will survive, I will survive

Yeah baby I'm alright without your love
Don't go and hit my line, I won't pick up
You thought my love would die, but you watch me run
I'm still alive, I will survive, hey hey

Oh I'm gonna love again
I'm still alive, I will survive
