

Ling Kai, Midas Matches

I took another drag
The deep blue sea against my back
Now I can finally say that I know
There is nothing left to believe

If time could tell
It would say I told you so
All the time in the world and the proof of its passing will do
Nothing for me

The bridges burnt and I fell along the way
You never catch like they say
I'm the match and you're the flame
Will we burn this old cliché

Don't let me know that you told me so
I just fell down and guess what I broke
There was a man who could turn anything into gold
Cold is the heart of gold

The bridges burnt and I fell along the way
You never catch like they say
I'm the match and you're the flame
Will we burn this old cliché
Cause I'm the match and you're the flame
