

Lionel Richie, Out Of My Head

There's a cold wind that's into my heart
There's a woman tearing me apart
There's a voice I hear of every word that
She said
I'm going out of my head

There's a feeling I get every night
There's a thing I miss about holding her tight
There's an emptiness I just want her here in my bed
I'm going out of my head

Sentimental fool in love am I
Thinking that true love would never die
I know she said goodbye
But I ain't giving in
If I give her just a little while
She might see me again

Sentimental fool in love am I
Thinking that true love would never die
I know that it's all wrong
But I'll think this instead
Wish I could get her back again
I'm going out of my head
