

Lisa Brokop, Ladylike

Put this dictionary on your head
And walk across the room
What a pretty dress
Take smaller steps
Look straight in front of you
One day you will find a husband
He will pay bills so
You can keep the house and
Dinner in the oven

Ladylike In momma's shoes
I tried but I don't fit em
Ladylike in cowboy boots
In diamonds, lace and denim
A woman redefined
I'm ladylike

I don't iron my baby's shirts,
He likes it when I wear them
Sometimes I come home from work
He's already there
We might head for sandy shores
some random afternoon
The laundry wont get done
The bookshelves wont get dusted

Ladylike In momma's shoes
I tried but I don't fit em
Ladylike in cowboy boots
In diamonds, lace and denim
A woman redefined
I'm ladylike

Thanks to all the moms and grandmas
Who have paved the way for us
I cant baste a turkey
But I'll hand down every ounce of love

Ladylike In momma's shoes
I tried but I don't fit em
Ladylike
The times have changed
Thank God for instant oatmeal
Ladylike I'm not uptight
I think I got the best deal
Ladylike
Those panyhouse dont go well with my blue jeans Ladylike my heals are high no reason why
it's just me
Ladylike, yeah
oh I'm ladylike
