

Lisa Bund, Picture Perfect

Always got to have your say
Always get your own way
Your so predictable
Mr. I play in a band, don't
You know who I am
I'm not sucked in by you
Why can't everybody see
You're not who you pretend to be
Perfect and it's just leaving me confused
Am I going crazy
Won't somebody wake me
Am I the only one who sees who you are
Cause underneath your skin, hides
The man within, why
Has everything everything got to be
So damn picture perfect
Mirror mirror on the wall
Who's the most vain of them all
You think you're invincible
Superhero, super prick
So disillusioned and it's
Making my skin crawl
Why can't everybody see
You're not who you pretend to be
And it's just leaving me confused
Am I going crazy
Won't somebody wake me
Am I the only one who sees who you are
Cause underneath your skin, hides
The man within, why
Has everything everything got to be
So damn picture perfect
So take another photograph
And hang it on your wall
Grab another piece of ass that
You can make feel small
You're everything I'd hate to be
I hope that one day they can
See - maybe I'm right
Picture
That I'm not going crazy
That I'm not the only one
Perfect who sees who you are
Am I going crazy
Won't somebody wake me
Am I the only one who sees who you are
Cause underneath your skin, hides
The man within, why
So damn picture perfect /2x
