

Lisa Lavie, Everything Or Nothing

I thought I knew you better babe. I thought wed make it through, but the demons that control your mind
Memories still haunt my soul. I cant seem to find the piece of mind I had before, before I met you and
Now could this be heaven sent, or could you be my soul regret.
Could this mean everything or Nothing wasting my time just thinking of you.
I still hear your fragile cries, somebody tell me why.
Could this mean everything or nothing wasting my time just thinking of you, of you...?
Imagine knowing Nothing at all, then to witness that night. I pray to God you find yourself before dawn
Now could this be heaven sent, or could you be my soul regret.
Could this mean everything or Nothing wasting my time just thinking of you.
I still hear your fragile cries, somebody tell me why.
Could this mean everything or Nothing wasting my time just thinking of you.
Late @ night my mind goes drifting, images wake me up in fear but Id rather close my eyes than confront
Could this be, my mind has me living this life again? Could be heaven sent
I pray to God you find yourself before darkness takes over your life
Now could this be heaven sent, or could you be my soul regret.
Could this mean everything or Nothing wasting my time just thinking of you.
I still hear your fragile cries, somebody tell me why.
Could this mean everything or Nothing wasting my time just thinking of you
