Lisahall, All I Am

"Seven years was all it took,
I don't need a second look.
Then I noticed something wrong,
and I noticed someone.
Being all the same to me.
Seeing things I'd never seen.
Don't make me hate you,
sink my teeth into things you'll never need.
Chorus:
All I am.. All I am.. All I am..
(background: I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not)
Seven months without a trace.
I'm over-riding your embrace.
I'll never see your smile, your face.
And I noticed someone.
All I am.. All I am.. All I am.. All I am..
All I am.. All I..
(background:
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I was not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I..)
Seven years was all it took,
I don't need a second look.
I think this bond is going to break.
So I sit in silence.
All I am.. All I am.. All I am.. All I am..
All I am.. All I..
(background:
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I was not the person you think,
I am not the person you think,
I..)
[cuts to radio sound:
all I am, all I, all I, I-I-I-I-I]"
