

Little Birdy, I Should Of Known

Have you got Anything worth waiting for?
Tear my heart
Tear my heart so it's on the floor.

I should of known with you,
I should of known with you
Better than that.

It's too late,
It's too late to not let you down.
And your suitcase -
It is lying near the heart you stole.
I should have known with you
I should have known with you
better than that

But it's all that you left,
But it's all that you left
It's too late,
I can't love you now.

But it's all that you left,
But it's all that you left
It's too late,
I should of known with you
I should of known with you
Better than that.

But you, you burnt a hole
Burnt a hole in my heart
Disarm, and let it slide
I won't be the one you want
If lazy love will not help my aching bones.

It's too late
The patient man quietly awaits.
And your suitcase
It is lying near the heart you stole.

I should have known with you
I should have known with you
better than that.

But you, you burnt a hole
Burnt a hole in my heart
Disarm, and let it slide
I won't be the one you want
If lazy love will not help my aching bones.
