

Liz Meyer, All I want

Everytime I feel your tocher...
I wonder if I ever could be yours?
It's plain to see that I have put you on a pedastal
I tried to let it go but
I'm fallin' harder everyday
I can't help but let you know...
All I want is you
I wanna feel your arms around me
There's nowhere now for me to turn
I've finally learned
What my heart always knew
All I want is you
I'm tired of waiting for tomorrow
It's something that I can't deny
These feelings inside
Are starting to show through
All I want is you
Everytime I see your face
I feel emotions coming over me
You would make my life worth living
You'd make me complete
So now it's on the table
I can't keep fighting how I feel
Oh it's time to let you know...
All I want is you
I wanna feel your arms around me
There's nowhere now for me to turn
I've finally learned
What my heart always knew...
All I want is you
I'm tired of waiting for tomorrow
It's something that I can't deny
These feelings inside
Are starting to show through
All I want is you
All I want is you...
