

LIZ PHAIR, Sometimes A Dream (Is What Makes

I can't remember the last time that I felt good for more than a week
I mean really good, for more than a month
'Cause I'm chasing a dream
And sometimes a dream doesn't set you free
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
And I think that's what's happened to me
'Cause I'm searching almost every day blind
And I'm walking through my past
Like a madman hoping to find
A good list of reasons to know that I'm special
To know that I'm different
To know that I'm better
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
Sometimes a dream is what makes you a slave
