

Lloyd Cole, For The Pleasure Of Your Company

heaven is a shadow of your live i'm a lonesome alcoholic for your kiss should i sit around and wait
well i had a chance
i hesitate to ask you for the pleasure of your company what would you say
would you think about it
right now

i've been put upon
i've been passed round for ever and i'm waiting for the thirteenth of never should I swear to be true should you give a damn what I say or do well, I'm asking for the pleasure of your company

love a cheat
i've got everything you need and I'm asking for the pleasure of your company what do you say baby oh
cause it's been a long time baby
think about it
