Lloyd Cole, I Hate To See You Baby Doing That S

i love to see you in your sweater girl i love you in your high tall boots i love to see you in your sweater girl love to see you walking that cute, you know it i love to see you in your leather skin love your lipstick on my sheets and i love to see you in your alligator shoes reciting to me my poetry, i really do but i hate to see you baby doing that stuff i hate to see you doing that stuff i hate to see you baby doing that stuff really hate to see you doing that stuff i love you baby when you bite my ear i don't worry about your uptown geek and i love you baby don't you bite your lip 'cause it's me you talk to in your sleep and i hate to see you baby doing that stuff i hate to see you doing that stuff i hate to see you baby doing that stuff really hate to see you doing that stuff i love to see you in your sweater girl love your alligator chic et je sais te vois dans ton christian la croix but i hate to see you walking my street, but i hate to see you baby doing that stuff i hate to see you doing that stuff i hate to see you baby doing that stuff really hate to see you doing that stuff, ha ha