

Lloyd Cole, Love Ruins Everything

hey, hey, hey
look at me now
i'm unrecognizable
my trademark frown has grown into the strangest easy smile
oh, my, my,
where did i go wrong?
ask all my drunken friends

"who's going to carry us home?
who's going to drink 'till the morning?
love ruined everything"

as the ladies line their eyes and the gents make their excuses and the talk is going cheap i'll be smiling in my sleep

hey, hey, hey,
look at her now
she's the life of the party
oh, my, my,
where did she go wrong?
ask all my drunken friends

"who's going to carry us home?
who's going to drink 'till the morning?
love ruined everything"
