

Lloyd Cole, Waterline

well it used to be everything was fine everything, this all was mine all i had to do was write it down you'd just be there with your perfect frown i made up my mind
i traded holy water for cheap wine
i ran out of time
but one fine day, you might say that i, i threw it all away 'cause i made up my mind
or something that i can't define i traded my whiskey for your wine leaving my river running dry and a waterline you might say i'm wasting my time you might say well, i don't mind
i ran out of time
leaving just a waterline just a waterline
