

Lloyd, Forever Song

She loved the flowers in her room
They helped ease the pain deep inside her
And even though she could not move
Her presence lit the universe

Sometimes she had dreams
She was soaring over golden streets
But what did they mean?
I asked her and she smiled as she said

[chorus]
"I know heaven waits for me
So don't shed a tear
We'll live eternally,
I'll be waiting for you there"

[verse 2]
I never knew her in this world
Though I heard her voice through her written words
And even as the years unfurl
My faith is nothing compared to hers

Sometimes she had dreams
She was soaring over golden streets
But what did they mean?
I asked her and she smiled as she said

[chorus]

[bridge]

And everything is perfect there
There's no more pain and no more tears
I've seen it in my dreams
And I have heard their singing in my ears
The forever song

[chorus]
