

Lloyd, Mr. Warner

I don't know if I should mention this
But I guess I will just accept the risk
Please forgive me for my candidness
But you're the one who went and started it

Singin' like an Alice Cooper wanna be
A gimmick to distract lack of ability
I realize Mr. Rexnor can't do everything
But don't you want an ounce of real integrity?

(chorus)

I don't really care if this is offending you
I'll scream if from the mountains if I have to
This is the one fixation I'll never lose
This is the choice I can't refuse

I don't know you but you're hating me
Must be my fascist Christianity
I bet it kills you to be forced to see
You're no more a sinner than a man like me

I'm standing in the "trench" calling you a fake
I'll bet you're angel-white underneath the cape
Shock 'em and they give you back a nice career
If you are the Devil, make me disappear

(chorus)
