

LMNT, Shine

You're the girl next door
And I can see that you've been crying
It's the second time this week
It ain't easy, but bless your heart for trying
I can tell that you've been losing sleep

*Give me on minute of your darkest hour
And I'll turn it into something real
Gonna make you shine
No matter how long, I'm gonna take my time
I'll make you shine
Whatever it takes, I'm gonna make you mine
I'll make you shine

I've seen you hanging out with your friends in the parking lot
Afraid to show them how you feel
I see you smilin like you're happy
But I know you're not
It's gonna take some time to heal
I know it seems impossible to move along, to be strong
So let me be the one who understands,
I understand~

Repeat chorus to end
