

Lobo, I Don't Want To Want You

(Roger LaVoie)

They tell me you are back in town
Looking good and looking around
Acting just a little strange
Like something inside you has changed

They say you're asking about me
Am I well and am I free
And would I take you back again
Well this is how it is old friend

I don't want to want you any more
I don't want to need you like I needed you before
I don't want to love the way you love
I don't want to want you any more

Those sleepless night's I lay like stone
Knowing you were not alone
Hurt me in so many ways
All that's left for me to say
