

Lobo, It's Gonna Be So Hard

(Frank Edmonson Jr.)

It's gonna be so hard
To find a new girl to love
Well it's gonna be so hard
To find a new girl to think of

I'm supposed to forget that sweet face
But that's something even time can't erase
There's no one else could take her place
It can't be done
There's only one
She's out having fun
With-out me

Well it's gonna be so hard
To get that girl off my mind
Well it's gonna be so hard
To find a girl of that kind

I'm supposed to forget her smile
I'm supposed to forget in a while
But for me that will be quite a trial
She'll always be
The only girl for me
Someday she'll see
But when will that be

Well it's gonna be so hard
To find a new girl to care
Well it's gonna be so hard
To find a girl anywhere

I'm supposed to forget her real fast
I'm supposed to find a new love to last
But all I can think of is the past
It just can't be
The memory
Lingers on with me
Oh when will she see

Well it's gonna be so hard
