

Lobo, Living My Life Without You

(Jeff Raymond / Lobo)

I must admit I've followed every rainbow
I've lived so high I've missed the lows
All my life
I've used my charms
Other ladies have filled my arms
But you have stayed beside me
All my life

I was looking so hard
I couldn't see
The dearest one
Who'd been a part of me

I was living my life without you
Baby you always knew
You saw through my disguise
And open up my eyes
I was living my life without you

How many times have I held you
Like I did last night
And never even seen
The light of you
So I must admit
That you saw more in you and me
Than a fool like me could ever see
All my life
