

Lobo, Now I Know How It Feels

(Kent LaVoie / Archie Jordan)

I walked out and left you standing there
In your quiet way you were so strong
You took it all in stride
And turned your life around
But when it turned around
I was just alone

Now I know how it feels
I know how it feels
When the pain inside won't ease
And it drives you to your knees
When the one that you adore
Doesn't want you anymore
I know, now I know how it feels

I was there when you walked into the room
I wanted to go somewhere and hide
You and your new love
Looked so happy arm and arm
While I felt apart of me dying inside

When the one that you adore
Doesn't love you anymore
I know...now I know...how it feels
