

Locust, Your Selfish Ways

Stabbed in the heart, life falling apart
Never look back, but I don't want to
Your selfish ways will catch up one day
Never look back

I guess we just went downhill
A shame, but life is cruel
Should have known, we became so silent
I didn't ask, but I wanted to

The connection, barely worth it
I confused, and honestly dry
Now I asking master questions
It seemed natural at the time

Now my bed is free
Crushed pillows, rolled back sheets
Now the mess is mine
I can do whatever I like

Wee banging our heads together
Crossed wires, we do intrude
My hopes and wishes are blasted
You dumb girl, it was never you

I guess we just went downhill
Aware of the fact we clash
No love is ever perfect
We made the effort, and now it passed
