

Lodger, Don't Go Home Tonight

After a long afternoon of cheap drinks
It's easy to see what man thinks
You may be faded
From your eyes
Don't go home tonight
Or something dies

When you see my blood
Think it's hers
You'll keep us safe
When everything blurs

I see you can feel it
In your jeans
Lets just solve it
Like two machines

Don't go home tonight
Nothing is alright
Use me as your wife
Don't go home tonight

After a long afternoon of cheap drinks
It's easy to see what man thinks
After the first blow, too late to say no
This is what they call, a one man show

Don't go home tonight
Nothing is alright
Use me as your wife
Don't go home tonight

Don't go home tonight
Nothing is alright
Use me as your wife
Don't go home tonight
Nothing is alright
Use me as your wife
Don't go home tonight

Tonight
Tonight
Tonight
