London After Midnight, Love You To Death

I die when I hear your voice, to touch you Divine. Be my possession, my sweet obsession wine. I'm dealing in demons love, is just a matter of time. I'll wear you down, one day you will be mine. Only I can make your life complete, just give yourself to me. Only I can make your destiny. So give me your heart my love, and give me your soul. I'd give you mine but I sold it long ago. Only I can see inside of you just give yourself to me. And I won't stop until you see the truth. I love you to death. I love you completely, a love that is purely vain. I never meant to hurt you so badly, I thought you'd enjoy the pain. I know what you feel it love, I can tell from your tears. So don't deny me, give into your fears.
