

London After Midnight, The Christmas Song

In this world of snow and cold I'll hide in this world of ice I've built with pride of all things that I'd most like to receive there's just one thing I really want this Christmas Eve I believe, I believe it's you

I know you're out there waiting in the cold all shimmering and blue and warm to hold but if I try and really do believe I'll get just what I'm waiting for this Christmas Eve
I believe, I believe it's you

Nothing can compare nothing can come close to you
nothing can compare
nothing else will ever do buried in the snow I'll wait for you and keep on wishing 'till my dreams come true I feel your touch, it melts the world away and we'll be together in the light of Christmas Day far away, far away with you.
