

Lonewolf, Keep Your Pride

Look into the mirror, what can you see your innocent face starts to bother me tell me brother what's the matter with you
'cause people tell you lies and you think it's true

Bridge: So take a deeper look into your heart
'cause there is something to keep and something to guard

Refrain: Keep your pride you have nothing to hide just another day to show: it's your own way to go let them scream your name, just go on straight
'cause this is your game

Take a little look into the crowd if you listen to them closely you will hear it loud if they think you are different, they try to deny it seems they have forgotten what's the reason why

Bridge: So beware on your way, they wanna be your lords show them your claws, let them never kill your thoughts

Refrain
