

Lonewolf, Like You

You, you are still the same You, you are the one to blame you make me wanna shout, you make me wanna cry you're driving in your car while other people die you're hiding in your job, sayin' "That's other men's work" but you ain't see nothing,, so come on, shut up, Sir

Refrain: Hey, Mister, can't you see, this world is goin'down from once a point so high to the new point on the ground so come on, let us change together, oh, come on it's true this world is falling down with people like you

You, you are a boring man You, you are a destroyed can you're working for a house, with a garden so nice you're working for a car and a family, what's the price other people die with a feeling and a heart you are a thing-lovig man with no guts for a new start

Refrain
