Lonewolf, Souls Of The Brave

Ancient ships of slavery sailing souls for a new country darkened day in a crowded place silent voices, not the same Not be heard, not be saved

Refrain: Lord, take care of the souls of the brave heal their wounds in heaven, it's too late Mankind's lost their will to believe and now I pray to you: hear me

Little hearts, they die, they bleed beggin'eyes, oppressed and they will not forget, they cannot be fulfilled with joy, but with tears, not be seen Not expected truth of life

Refrain