

Lonewolf, Waiting For The Storm

In the dark night, see the ships on the sea they are afraid of the coming storm mankind lives on the flat land called earth but they never think of the coming storm

Refrain: Little ship stop crying, you won't die but you must wait for the storm

Winds are blowing, know the storm will come we can't see ships are alive tell me why we are so blind can't we see ships are afraid

Refrain

Night is over, the storm is far away ships are happy, all they have survived we are lucky, but the storm is coming now tell me why, tell me why we are so blind
