Long Beach Dub All Stars, Kick Down

kick me down is all i hear now adays Break me off you can say it in a thousand ways give me this, give me that as if you feed on greed lyin' to kick it just to smoke up all my weed dri nkin my brew and gettin drunker than me tell me what is it that you wantin from me aint nothin free i had to work to get whats comin to me open your eyes and realize that this is somethin' to see kick down is what they talk 'bout today your in my arena but you dont wanna play its how you move and not what you say when the cats away the mice will play cause im remembering the days when i didnt have nothin livin in the ghetto east side ill tell you something from the life ive lived and what ive seen nothing from nothing means nothing so you better have somethin if you wanna kick down from me so lets move to the side and make this discrete take a look at my numbers to see if they meet up with your stylin to fill up your streets i dont who you are but i guess you know me stop thinking you can come up so easily kick me down is all i hear now adays Break me off you can say it in a thousand ways give me this, give me that as if you feed on greed lyin' to kick it just to smoke up all my weed drinkin my brew and gettin drunker than me tell me what is it that you wantin from me aint nothin free i had to work to get whats comin to me open your eyes and realize that this is somethin' to see what is it that you beggin me for ive got it all but now you cant have it ive learned from what ive earned and established my status as a job to manage and to my advantage i will stand ground shake your hand like the realest man around and your town kickin you down for a minute but everything your life have consequences begining only to end it as if it was intended but you still have to take to the streets and represent it for each one to step off a street and represent it so you can sleep for each concegutive second thats independent from each hour i speak as if i was the only source of power keeper of keeper thought with knowledge in my concious tower i read the fate like characters in ficticious novels and yet between the lines more follow a most hollow way of life to model for our street investin stress in a bottle nah your better off wishin a lotto kick me down is all i hear now adays Break me off you can say it in a thousand ways give me this, give me that as if you feed on greed lyin' to kick it just to smoke up all my weed drinkin my brew and gettin drunker than me tell me what is it that you wantin from me aint nothin free i had to work to get whats comin to me open your eyes and realize that this is somethin' to see Ha Ha, whats up Op aint seen you in a while chile. hey man you fuckin livin large huh. comin up huh you like it, servin the purpose and shit. Gold card and everything.

Right Right. Kick me down. Huh, im gonna tell you like this bro. Kick me down is all im hearing from you come on man break me off save me some as if theres some for you i need this, give me that as if you need some help feed your self, yous the only one that needs yourself i need a drink to get me drunker than the fourty thieves tell me why is it that you frontin on my fortian please speak your piece or forever hold your own i need a loan, i need a car to get home naw dawg you better off fetchin for your own bone to throw come on im in the streets im all alone but if you seek than you shall find your shine aint gone so can i get a kick down naw you wrong kick me down is all i hear now adays Break me off you can say it in a thousand ways give me this, give me that as if you feed on greed lyin' to kick it just to smoke up all my weed drinkin my brew and gettin drunker than me tell me what is it that you wantin from me aint nothin free i had to work to get whats comin to me open your eyes and realize that this is somethin' to see
