

Long Since Forgotten, Considering You

These thoughts
Keep me awake at night
Keep me dreaming all day
You were never mine
It's been all right

You left me speechless when you said
You were leaving
All the things I never said I can never say
I suppose it's unfair of me to sing to you
One more self-effacing song
About my pain
With the melody to break your heart
Just because you broke mine a thousand times

These thoughts
Keep me awake at night
Keep me dreaming all day
You were never mine
It's been all right

All the time I was awake trying to figure this out Now I think about you Now and then

I suppose it's unfair of me to sing to you
One more self-effacing song about my pain
With the melody to break your heart
Just because you broke mine a thousand times

I care and
you're not listening anyway

I care and
you're not listening anyway

I care and
you're not listening anyway

I care and
you're not listening anyway

I care and
you're not listening anyway
(You don't care)

I care and
you're not listening anyway
(I don't care)

I care and
you're not listening anyway
(You don't care)

I care and
you're not listening anyway
(I don't care)