

Long Since Forgotten, On My Way

Avoiding your eyes now, and if I seem distant, it's because I've left you far behind.
Fighting my intentions. I do this far too often.
Running away. Running away.

-=chorus=-

I'm on my way back to the only place I know is safe.
Out of my car, back to the loneliest place on earth.
This is not an excuse, it just has to end.

Avoiding your eyes now. This conversation gets us, nowhere.
That's all I'll get with you.
So I turn my car around, drive these miles out of town.
Running away. Running away.

-=chorus=-

ohhh, don't turn around, don't turn around,
dont walk away just yet. This is not an excuse,
it just has to end, now.
