

Longpigs, Free Toy

Silence tells me no lies so stick around and the truth you'll find there's a fire in your heart burns so bright burns sometimes unkind

I keep the fire from burning me by closing my eyes i was born to pollute the smoking the cocaine the new stain and the old flame to read between the lines that crowd around your eyes i need some i want some blood in your eyes

coca-cola your heart look around you should get out of town i could eat every word you could bend till i'm fat as hell you should have changed the world by now but i'm too busy smiling the holy cow the campaign and the camp pain the loose change and the dancing

the flabby burgers mine the free toy the day and night i want some need some blood in out your eyes

i said i saw it once sadness such a full meal joy such a salad was cupid the stupid cunt

the cocaine and the smoking the new stain and the old flame the lair of fat and the whole game for you
the campaign and the camp pain the dancing and the v-sing the smell of fat chicks wrapped in denim and kicks

the free toy
the day and the night i want some need some love in your eyes
