

Lor, Happy Birthday

Happy Birthday to you
Do you remember when I
Was holding you in my arms?
Look how tall you are
While I'm getting shorter now

I didn't know what to give you so
You can just take what you want
And you never seemed so small
Between the people you love

Happy Birthday to you
Do you remember that day
We were holding you down by the lake?
You had that pink little bike
And the box to catch butterflies

I wasn't sure what you like to do
But I came to wish some luck to you
And it's good that you can grow up
Between the people you love

Happy Birthday
And it's good that you can grow up
Between the people you love
And it's good that you can grow up
Between the people you love
And it's good that you can grow up
Between the people you love
