

Lord Belial, Lamia

(lyrics by Dark, music by Dark and Vassago)

Lamia...

you shall come to me and stand by my side
'till the end of time

Ooh...welcome to my kingdom shrouded in darkness and hate come and make me immortal Lamia... you're so beautiful, with your burning face and your body red of blood

Together we shall reign this world together we shall spread our wings and fly we will fly over this land and then they will fear us

'cause they know that they are weaker than us - and so do we and therefor they must follow us, or die in eternal pain - to die in the eternal flames - to die in the eternal flames- die

I will proclaim my powers to all living creatures so come Lamia and join my dark crusade

the dead will rise from their graves when you call for them - feel your power and join me

Together we shall reign this world together we shall spread our wings and fly we will fly over this land and then they will fear us 'cause they know that they are weaker than us - and so do we and therefor they must follow us, or die in the eternal pain Together we shall spread our wings and fly
